

Making a Bequest to Mothers Union Sydney

There are many reasons why making a bequest is an increasingly popular option for those interested in supporting ministries beyond their lifetime. Sometimes everyday commitments mean that we are unable to help today, but we can give a gift in the future.

Making a Will is an important part of life, so that you can continue to support your family, friends and passions after you die.

We hope you will consider remembering the ministries of Mothers Union Sydney in your Will. We need your help to continue to support marriage and Christian family life into the future.

To leave a gift for Mothers Union Sydney -
